Dear Sir:

I am sorry my previous letter was not clear, and I will endeavour now to be more explicit. We no longer publish "The American Journal of Numismatics". Instead, we issue, from time to time, "Numismatic Notes and Monographs", and I am enclosing a list of the series. We should be pleased to fill your order for any of these. I am also enclosing an application card, and the annual dues for Associate Membership is five dollars. If you should join the Society, you would receive the publications issued during the year, and in the long run the cost would be much less than if you bought the individual monographs.

I hope the matter is now fully explained, and that we shall hear from you again soon.

Yours very truly,

Secretary.
